

Text Summarizer

Artificial Intelligence (AI) refers to the simulation of human intelligence in machines that are programmed to think and learn like humans. AI has applications in various fields such as healthcare, finance, and education. It helps automate tasks, analyze data, and make predictions, improving efficiency and decision-making.

Summarize

Summary

✓ This is a dummy 3-line summary. You can customize it for demo purposes.